

Linda Low

Rotary International Peace Fellow

Formerly with the International Red Cross, Linda was a Peace fellow in 2016 to 2018 at the Duke-UNC Rotary Peace Center. She specializes in global communications and advocacy in support to international non-profit organizations and foundations. As the founder of Leadership Dialogues, Linda is passionate about facilitating community dialogues that foster civil discourse, reduce conflict, and enable dialogue across difference. Linda is also the founder of the Rotary Club of Global Partners in Peace which convenes conflict resolution and development practitioners across 20 countries. She is a keynote speaker on peacebuilding through dialogue and belonging.
